

Plus principle

It's for the People!

Designplus stands for the people who make up the company and for what drives and motivates them. For creatives, strategists and free thinkers who focus their passions on presenting the brand. For customers and target groups who want to be reached and delighted by sensational solutions. And this globally, on every continent.

Uniqueness that inspires!

Designplus works individually and in interdisciplinary teams to develop outstanding solutions. Creativity and innovative power are the key criteria for designing unique installations, powered by strong visions and clear guiding concepts.

For everlasting love!

Designplus is fired by enthusiasm, putting heart and soul into the quest to find that certain something for each individual product or project. Designplus stands for a structured and creative development process for the highest level of product and brand presentation. It has been doing so unwaveringly, utilising the extensive experience it has gained since being founded in 1995.

Solutions that work!

Designplus operates in three dimensions and in every order of magnitude. Designplus places a premium on innovation, solutions and the highest standards of quality. From one-off products, to serial production. Systematically – with heart and mind.
